

I do not think that it is fair for telemarketing companies to constantly bother people. I pay for my phone service and do not wish it to be used for that purpose and should have a right to not have unwanted telemarketing calls.